SMALL CYCLONE DID DAMAGE

Thursday Afternoon, Telephone Poles Blown Down.

LASTED SHORT TIME.

Cloud Divided, As Usual, Before Reaching City.

Few, if any, people in the city were aware that the strong gale which accompanied the April-like shower which fell in the city Thursday, was the milder half of a cyclone which passed over the southwest section near us.

The wind and rain put in their appearance here about 2:30 p. m. and lasted but a short time when the sun came out again, and for a while people suffered with the intense heat and closeness of the atmosphere.

The wind was not strong enough to do any damage in the city, but it was different west and southwest. A heavy cloud came from the west followed by a cyclonic wind. The wind had a spiral motion and did considerable damage to standing wheat.

Mr. Thomas Carloss, who was cutting wheat had to stop his machine as the hands were too much frightened to work, while the mules attached to the machine were so panicky that they had to be unhitched.

On the farm of Mr. G. L. Campbell foul telephone poles were blown down and communication was, of course, cut off.

Mr. Cato, on the Garland farm, had a cow stable blown down, and other damage was done in that section.

Like all wind storms the one of Thursday divided a few miles out from the city. One part of it took a north-east course but we have not heard of any damage being done before spending its force. The city got the weaker half, the course being almost due east.

DULL TIMES.

Have Ruled at Police Headquarters For a Week.

The police force have been "in clover" for nearly a week. For the past six days only two arrests were made, a man for drunkenness and woman for breach of the peace, and, strange to say, both parties are white. It may be that the warning to vagrants issued by the Chief of Police has driven a large number of the colored population into the brush or maybe they are taking observations as to what the blackberry crop is to be.

LEW BROWN PRESIDENT

Tom Underwood Distinguishes Himself as Toast Master.

MEETING IS A SUCCESS.

Newspaper Boys Close Excellent Session at Estill.

Estill Springs, Ky., June 20—Lew B. Brown, of Harrodsburg, was unanimously elected president of the Kentucky Press Association. The Hon. Tim Needham succeeded to the vice presidency without opposition, while that worthy and popular penman, Vernon Richardson, of Danville, became his own successor as secretary and treasurer. The friends of Tom Underwood, of Hopkinsville, will be glad to know that he is in line for first honors and will become chairman of the Executive Committee.

In a business sense the meeting has been both interesting and important. The papers read and the addresses delivered betray that much time and thought have been expended in their preparation, and in the interchange of opinions, many profitable suggestions have come to light.

The association took a very decided stand against the introduction of politics, when Mr. J. W. Hedden, of Mt. Sterling, attempted to secure the adoption of a resolution declaring for temperance. Under the leadership of Harry Sommers, the resolution was antagonized and defeated practically unanimously.

The banquet last evening passed off with great elat. Tom Underwood as the presiding genius of the occasion idealized the part with his wit and wisdom. The responses were unusually happy and humorous.

FRENCH REVOLUTION

Another One Threatened In South of France.

Paris, June 20.—Fighting has commenced between the troops and the striking winegrowers in the south of France. There was trouble at several points yesterday; the worst happened at Narbonne, where the people are in full revolt. Cavalry charged the mob twice and several persons were injured in the fray.

Mercelin Albert, leader of the winegrowers' movement, and M. Ferroul, the striking mayor of Narbonne and next to M. Albert the most prominent figure in the trouble, were arrested today. When M. Ferroul was taken into custody a serious clash was threatened and was averted only by the efforts of the mayor to calm the people.

SENT TO PEN

For Scraping Plant Beds In Caldwell County.

The cases of Stephen Choat, white, and Ned Pettit, a negro, who were charged with scraping tobacco plant beds in Caldwell County, have been tried in the Caldwell Circuit Court, now in session at Princeton, when each man entered a plea of guilty, and was sentenced to terms of one year in the State penitentiary. These are the first cases in which parties charged with the crime of plant bed scraping have confessed his guilt when brought to trial, and been sentenced to the pen. They claimed to have scraped beds in retaliation, as their own beds had been destroyed only a few nights before.
